Closing Day Of Institute

The Institute was favored Friday afternoon by an address by Miss Willis Cather on the Cliff Dwellings of the great Southwest.

In the characteristic, interesting way she described the journey to the ruins among the canyons of Mesa Verde, the ruins themselves, and some of the habits and customs of these strange people whose fragmentary history is told in the empty habitations on the dismal cliffs of "The sad southwest, that mystical sun land swept by the wind and bereft of the rain."

Miss Cather has a fine collection of photographs of the dwellings taken on her journey thru this interesting country.

Altho the afternoon was exceedingly hot the teachers and others present gave closest attention to one of the most interesting and instructive half hours of any institute held in this county. The teachers will look forward with pleasure to a return visit from this talented writer and traveler. The closing address of the Institute was given by Dr. A. H. Winship of Boston at the Congregational church in the evening. His subject was "Tom, Dick and Harry" and was an appeal to educators not to underestimate the importance of that part of a child's education secured outside the school walls.

The speaker forcibly called attention to the fact that education today is concerned in training the child in the knowledge of his immediate surroundings rather than in the knowledge of affairs and times distant from him and available only thru poring over dry and uninteresting text books. Our education has been too much a thing up in the air and disconnected with every-day life. Education today starts the boy on the ground. Prof. Langley's flying machine failed at both trials when it was started by being shot into the air. Years afterward, Glen Curtiss started it along the ground and it flew perfectly.

The whole address was full of humor and apt illustration and was a fitting close to the very successful teachers' institute of 1916.

Miss Gertrude Coon is to be congratulated on the live, wide awake, enthusiastic corps of teachers under her charge in this county. The rural teachers of Webster county are characterized by their youth, great initiative, and the largest percentage of young men in any county of the state.

Indians Scalped By Hardy

Hardy defeated the local base ball team here Monday afternoon by a score of 14 to 6 in a game that was weird with errors and boneheads a plenty. Hardy touched Garber for 13 hits and Webster of Hardy was hit for 11 save blows. Butler and Bartunek and Forsha of Hardy getting home runs. The balloon went up in the fifth inning when Hardy captured five runs and six more in the sixth. The locals tried hard for a rally but the lead was too large to overcome. Score by inning:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Hardy 0 1 0 2 5 6 0 0—14 13 4
Red Cloud 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 3—6 11 6

Batteries—Garber and Bean, Webster and Barton. Home Runs: Butler, Bartunek and Forsha. 3 base hits: Hale. 2 base hits: Hale, Forsha (2), Bartunek. Base on balls—Garber 3, Webster 6. Struck out by—Garber 13, Webster 10. Umpires—Miksch and Bradford.

On Monday afternoon, Grace, the twelve year old daughter of J. V. Roubal was terribly burned when she poured gasoline, that was supposed to have been kerosene, into a stove which exploded, enveloping her in flames and terribly burning her on the face, arms and body. She was popping corn and the fire died down and was trying to hurry the blaze when the accident occurred. The older sisters were out in the front yard and heard her scream, rushed into the house and wrapped her in a blanket which subdued the flames, but not before she was badly burned. Her condition is very serious and hopes for recovery are doubtful.

Telling You About An Implement Worth Owning

HAVE you ever thought of increasing your crop yield by planting with a Kentucky drill? It can be done.

Kentucky drilled grain stands a better chance of producing a bumper crop than broadcasted seed. It takes less seed too, and will do a much better job in a wet field than a seeder. Grain put in with a Kentucky drill will all come up at the same time and all ripen at once. This is an advantage that cannot be expected from seed broadcasted.

The Kentucky light draft grain drills have been largely responsible for the big crop yields in the Red River Valley and other celebrated wheat districts. Without the Kentucky drill those farmers would have no better crop than you. Call in some day soon and we will show you why the Kentucky drill produces bigger yields.
